So pure and antiseptic, so powerful, penetrating, and soothing as to have justly earned its title, King of Pain, it is the most effective, economical, and clean-to-use external cure for rheumatism, neuralgia, pleurisy, stiff, twisted joints, sore, strained, or lame muscles, tired, aching feet, any pain or ache, as well as for throat and lung troubles, and a general family medicine.

What Some People Say.

Some say alcohol gives strength. If so, why do athletes abstain while training for a race or other contests requiring "special strength"?

Some say alcohol gives endurance. If so, why do great employers of labor cut off the supply of drink when work of an especially arduous nature is required?

Some say alcohol sustains the health. If so, why do insurance companies take total abstinence at a lower premium and give them larger bonuses than others?

Some say that alcohol is good as a stimulant for brain workers. If this is a fact, then all physiologists are wrong, as they unanimously agree that the smallest quantity of alcohol upsets the balance of the mind, and Dr. Sheppard of London, and many other authorities, state that about 40 per cent of the cases of insanity are caused by its use.

Some say it is dangerous to give up the use of alcohol suddenly. If so, why do prisoners, all of whom are obliged to abstain suddenly when committed to jail, improve in health?

Some say, why did God make such things if they were not meant to be used? God never made alcohol. It is not found anywhere in nature, but is a poison manufactured from rotten and decayed vegetable matter.

Some say our Lord made wine, and, therefore, it must be good, and must be meant for men. No doubt all total abstinence would be prepared to drink wine made as our Lord made it, from pure water. It is wine made from fermented grapes and putrid grain which contains the deadly poison called alcohol, to which they object.

Some say a little alcohol is a good thing to take when weak and faint. As alcohol contains no food properly whatever, is not this absolutely a wrong conclusion? It only acts as the whip to the tired horse, which draws out a little more of its exhausted strength, but puts nothing in its place. A glass of warm milk, a cup of tea or coffee or a little hot ginger water will give the same feeling of relief and at the same time make the body and mind stronger.

The liquor traffic is a destroying monster which only continues to live because it is fed by the moderate drinkers. Thousands of drunkards perish every year, and the ghastly army is daily recruited from the ranks of the moderate drinkers.

Count up your friends who were once moderate drinkers, but have been ruined by strong drink. Think of the danger to your loved ones, and remember that their safety may depend upon your example.

It takes courage and unselfishness to abstain, but face the facts and ask yourself: What is my duty?—Exchange.

Helping Out.

With an exclamation of delight the hardened tourist rushed out on the baggage platform and started to smash his way through the crowd.

"Hold on!" shouted the baggage man. "Are you crazy?"

"Not at all," replied the hardened tourist as he continued to smash. "I read that baggage men were overworked at this season, so I thought I would smash my own trunk and save you the trouble."—Chicago News.

Giving Him a Chance.

First Doctor—You're treating Jenks for insomnia, aren't you?
Second Doctor—Yes.
First Doctor—Have you induced him your bill yet?
Second Doctor—No, of course not. I want the man to be able to sleep.—Denver Post.

The Same Rule.

"See here, sir," exclaimed the successful manufacturer to Mr. Adam Upp, his dilatory bookkeeper, "you are not as attentive to your business as you might be. Now it has been my rule in life to be at my desk early and late."

"Me, too," interrupted Mr. Upp. "sometimes I get there early and sometimes late."—Philadelphia Press.

ABOUT THE STATE.

At a recent meeting of the stockholders in the Richmond Savings Bank and Trust company, Judge Richard Smith was elected president to succeed Col. E. Henry Powell of Burlington.

The ice men in the vicinity of Rouses Point are happy for there is about seven inches of ice on Lake Champlain at this point. Up to now there has been almost no ice cut for next summer's use in that vicinity.

Dr. J. C. Parker a veterinary surgeon has finished testing or retested several herds of cattle, not finding one animal which was afflicted with tuberculosis. In St. Albans three herds of over 30 cows were tested and found sound.

Leonard Tupper of South Burlington was the victim of a painful accident Wednesday. He was drawing wood with a two horse team and while going down a steep hill he in some unknown way was thrown off the load and sustained a fracture of the bones in the lower right leg. His horses ran away and the unfortunate man was left lying in the road. He managed with great pain to crawl along the road, knocking him a quarter of a mile distant. Medical aid was then summoned and the fracture reduced.

William Sherman, aged 36, of Bristol was killed Wednesday by falling from a load of logs. Mr. Sherman had gone to the woods with his team alone. While returning the oxen on his load broke and struck him in the back, knocking him off the load and down between the oxen and the horses. Sherman was found some time later by another teamster named Jones. He had sustained a broken arm and leg and bore bruises which showed that he had been dragged for a long distance. Sherman was the son of Mrs. Martha Sherman of Bristol.

Cat Wanted to Fight.

Al Baas had a fight one morning last week that will last him a lifetime. He heard his dogs in a fight with some animal in a hollow near by, and as they seemed to be getting the worst of it he took his gun with two loads in it and went to the rescue. He soon discovered that it was a wildcat, and after using both loads without effect suddenly decided he had business at the house, and the cat, by this time in a good humor to fight, helped him in his decision by chasing him up the hill, making frantic dashes at the seat of his pants.—Edmond (Okla.)
